Course Description

The course will facilitate transition to the role of the DNP prepared advanced practice registered nurse (APRN) through exploration of leadership, profession, and practice prospectives within the metaparadigm of nursing. Emphasis is placed on exploring roles within advance practice, theories of change, collaboration, advocacy, autonomy, titling, certification, and licensure issues.

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course the student will be able:

1. Discuss the historical, sociocultural, and economic forces that shape advanced practice nursing.
2. Articulate the role of the DNP prepared APRN as an innovator, translator, leader, advocate, collaborator, and champion of change.
3. Analyze legal parameters and scope of practice within advanced practice nursing.
4. Explore contemporary issues and paradigm shifts influencing the role of the APRN in health care.

Prerequisites / Program or Major Connections

The following DNP Essentials and NONPF competencies are addressed by this course content:

DNP Essentials	NONPF Competencies
----------------	--------------------

I.	Scientific Underpinnings for Practice	Quality Competencies (4-5)
II.	Organizational and Systems
III.	Leadership for Quality Improvement	Leadership Competencies (2-6)
IV.	Clinical Scholarship and Analytical Methods for EBP
V.	Information Systems/Technology	Independent Practice (1.2)
VI.	Interprofessional Collaboration
VII.	Clinical Prevention and Population Health
VII.	Academic Nursing Practice

Teaching Philosophy

One aspect of learning is the interactive process between student and faculty. Faculty may offer guidance and feedback or stimulate discussion through a dialogue process. Faculty will provide useful and important resources for learning but it is imperative that students explore, discover and share evidence that is congruent and also different with their practice and their ethical/value system. Students are expected to maintain communication with faculty regarding all aspects of the learning experience.

Instructional Methods

There are four modules with individual competency assignments and threaded discussion for each unit. The competencies are a series of questions drawn from the readings, web assignments, and threaded discussion. The threaded discussion is module specific question to invite dialogue and discussion from your colleagues. Participation in threaded discussion within the module topic and specific module deadlines is highly encouraged. Should you have any questions about the course assignment, you may email me directly, but I would encourage you to post the question in the Virtual Office, since your fellow classmates may have the same question.

Course Policies and Requirements

Assignments

Threaded Discussions (25% of Total Grade)

Threaded Discussions (5) are designed to engage students in discussions about Advanced Practice Roles. Your course faculty requires APA format and correct grammar in all postings for full credit. The best postings begin with a factual (cited) response to the question, include an example from your current experience, and conclude with a shared idea for applying the information. Your posting does not repeat what has already been stated but adds to the discussion.

Additionally, your posting ends with a prompt to fellow classmates to encourage their next entry to move closer to address the full posting objective. Graduate level thinking follows this process and moves you beyond the BSN level of discussion. We want you to gain full points for each TD. The grading rubric is provided below.

APRN Scope of Practice (20% of Total Grade)

Imagine you are about to graduate from your advanced practice registered nurse (APRN) program at TCU, and will soon be practicing in your new advanced practice role. As you prepare for this transition, you will need to consider the professional regulations that will guide your practice as an APRN.

Your first major assignment (worth 20 points) in the course is to research the scope of practice of the Clinical Nurse Specialist (CNS) or Nurse Practitioner (FNP, AG-ACNP) in the state where you reside. If you live in Texas, access the Texas State Board of Nursing Rules and Regulations and Advanced Practice information. Focus only on the sections of the Practice Act that relate to advanced practice nursing (i.e. CNS or NP; do NOT include information about registered nurses).

Nursing Ethics & Professional Responsibility for APRN (20% of Total Grade)

Values clarification is not a formal process, but a natural, mostly unconscious, moral exercise that each person performs continuously as decisions are made in all kinds of life situations.

Clarifying our values is useful for understanding the values of oneself and the values of other people. When a choice just affects us, we are not as aware of its moral weight, when a decision affects another person we are more likely to call it a moral choice. As providers of care, some values we hold have important effects on other persons. Being aware of those values and how they affect other persons is the ethical task of values clarification.

This list contains values that are often associated with being an APRN. Think about yourself in relationship to this list.

- Empathic – being caring, compassionate, benevolent – being deeply interested in the perspective of the other person
- Integrity – having self-knowledge and being willing to act from the most authentic and best ideals that guide behavior
- Truth-telling – always willing to tell as much truth as one knows and that the other person can constructively accept

- Respectful – taking care to guard human dignity in general and to treat the individual person with cultural sensitivity and regard for personal values/choices
- Responsibility – being willing to follow through on commitments, to accept blame and praise, and to relate to every life situation in a way fitting to the character of the person, the goals adopted, and the rules that have been agreed to
- Competence – being able to do well what you claim to do
- Practical – to be able to apply knowledge and skills to solve real problems
- Wisdom - is a prize that many achieve by being calm, reflective, experienced and focused on doing the most good in every situation
- Effacement of self-interest – the willingness to set aside the goals that serve one's own interest for the preference of serving the well-being of another person
- Courage – the ability to accept risk in order to act well and do what is right
- Justice – to act fairly toward all persons and expecting everyone acting through social structures to treat all persons fairly with preference for vulnerable persons

This assignment should be written in APA format with a title page. Please refer to the APA resources on the course wall. Page limit: 5 pages with references

1. Which of these values do you consider central to your work as an APRN? Why do you consider these central?
2. Describe how two or more of these values could conflict with each other. Describe how you would seek a resolution to this conflict.
3. Describe a situation in which a value choice you would make for yourself would differ from one that a patient may hold as important. How would you resolve this in the care of your patient?

Finding Your Voice Assignment (20% of Total Grade)

In the book, What nurses know and must communicate to the public, the authors Bernice Buresh and Suzanne Gordon advocate for ending the silence. While nurses are the largest professional group, they are the least visible when speaking about their own professional and health issues. Public image of nurses' centers around being trustworthy, honest, and ethical believing that inherent traits, not education, is what makes a nurse. The authors emphasize that nurses have not convinced the public/media to consult nurses about critical health issues. As an APRN, you will be faced with many issues that you will feel passionate about. Finding your voice is part of your professional development and personal growth.

For this assignment, you will identify a healthcare issue or practice issue that you have strong feelings about or that you would like to comment on.

Your options are listed below:

- Write a letter to the editor of a journal, local newspaper, magazine etc. Follow the guidelines that come directly from AANP website.
 - Sample Letter to Editor
- Write a letter to a legislator (state representative, US congressman or senator)
 - Sample letter to legislators
 - Tips for Writing to Legislators
- Write an op-ed
 - Op-ed template and sample

Resume/Cover Letter Assignment (10% of Total Grade)

Part I: Write a cover letter to a prospective employer where you are applying for an APRN position. Cover letters contain detailed information that describes why the applicant is qualified for the position, providing an explanation of interest in the organization and the relevant skills and/or experiences the applicant possesses.

Part II: Provide an updated resume. A resume is a concise introduction of education, career-related skills, and experience tailored to a specific job. This assignment involves writing a one-page cover letter and developing a resume.

Refer to pg. 533-34 in the Tracy and O'Grady text for a template for cover letter and components of a resume.

Grading

Final Grade Elements / Grade Breakdown:

Outcome(s)	Assignments, Exams/Quizzes, Presentations, etc.	Percentage	Points
1	Threaded Discussion 01	5	12
1	Threaded Discussion 02	5	12
4	Threaded Discussion 03	5	12
2	Threaded Discussion 04	5	12
4	Threaded Discussion 05	5	12
2	APRN Scope of Practice Assignment	20	20
3	Nursing Ethics & Professional Responsibility Paper	20	20
4	Finding Your Voice Assignment	20	20
1	Resume/Cover Letter	15	15
	Total	100	142

Grading Scales

Numerical grades will be given to graded assignments and at course end will be converted to a letter grade as follows (as a reminder, you must maintain a 3.0 overall program average to remain in the program; a grade of 80 or above is required for this course to progress without imposition of academic penalties):

Graduate Nursing Final +/- Grade Scale:

Letter Grade	Numerical Equivalent
A	95-100
A-	90-94.99
B+	87-89.99
B	84-86.99

B-	80-83.99
----	----------

Rounding Rules: For the FINAL grade computation .5 or larger fractions round up, .4 and smaller round down. For example, 79.4 = C+ and 79.5 = B-

Late Work

All assignments are due on specified dates and times noted in the Syllabus. Otherwise, 10% of the total grade for any given assignment will be deducted initially and for each day the assignment is late up to one week. If the late assignment is not submitted within one week of the original due date, a grade of 0 will be recorded.

Grading Concerns

If a student has a question or concern about a grade they have received, they should email the faculty within 48 hours after grades are posted. The email should include the following details:

- what is the specific request
- if asking for additional points, provide supporting documentation for the change
- If they are seeking clarification for deductions, identify the specific areas

Chain of Communication

If you have any questions or concerns about your experiences in this course, the first step is to communicate these questions or concerns directly with the person(s) involved. Your instructor is your primary contact for any questions or concerns that arise with this course. The chain of communication for this course is

- Your instructor; if the situation is unresolved, consult with
- The Program Director/Coordinator; if the situation is unresolved, consult with
- The Director of Graduate Nursing; if the situation is unresolved, consult with
- The Associate Dean for Nursing & Nurse Anesthesia

Participation / Engagement (Attendance)

This is a totally online class and is conducted in an asynchronous environment. Students are expected to log in frequently and to check for any new Announcements or other communication from the Instructor. Likewise, students are expected to be actively engaged with colleagues in Threaded Discussions and other avenues as appropriate.

Frequent review of the Syllabus and Course Calendar are essential to have awareness of course expectations, learning outcomes, assignments, due dates, and grading policies.

Class Norms & Netiquette

All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, discussions, and chats. If I deem any of them to be inappropriate or offensive, I will forward the message to the Chair of the department and appropriate action will be taken, not excluding expulsion from the course. The same rules apply online as they do in person. Be respectful of other students. Foul discourse will not be tolerated. Please take a moment and read the basic information about netiquette (<http://www.albion.com/netiquette/>).

Participating in the virtual realm, including social media sites and shared-access sites sometimes used for educational collaborations, should be done with honor and integrity. Please review the relevant sections of the Student Handbook (<https://deanofstudents.tcu.edu/student-handbook/>) for TCU's network and computing policies and communication guidelines.

Technology Policies

Email

Only the official TCU student email address will be used for all course notification. It is your responsibility to check your TCU email on a regular basis.

Course Materials

TCU students are prohibited from sharing any portion of course materials (including videos, PowerPoint slides, assignments, or notes) with others, including on social media, without written permission by the course instructor. Accessing, copying, transporting (to another person or location), modifying, or destroying programs, records, or data belonging to TCU or another user without authorization, whether such data is in transit or storage, is prohibited. The full policy can be found at: <https://tcu.policytech.com/dotNet/documents/?docid=55&public=true>.

Violating this policy is considered a violation of Section 3.2.8 of the Student Code of Conduct found in the Student Handbook (<https://deanofstudents.tcu.edu/student-handbook/>), and may also constitute Academic Misconduct or Disruptive Classroom Behavior. TCU encourages student debate and discourse; accordingly, TCU generally interprets and applies its policies, including the policies referenced above, consistent with the values of free expression and First Amendment principles.

Recording of Class Sessions

Our synchronous class sessions will all be recorded for use by enrolled students, including those who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are consenting to have their video or image recorded. If you do not wish to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are consenting to have their voices recorded. If you do not wish to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. Further, if you anticipate that you will not consent to your video and/or audio participation being recorded, please contact me immediately so I may work with you to determine how to assess your class participation and assignments that may require collaboration during the class session.

Academic Misconduct

Academic Misconduct (Section 3.4 of the Student Code of Conduct found in the Student Handbook (<https://deanofstudents.tcu.edu/student-handbook/>)): Any act that violates the academic integrity of the institution is considered academic misconduct. The definitions and procedures used to resolve suspected acts of academic misconduct are available in the offices of the Academic Deans and Dean of Students, and are also listed in detail in the Undergraduate Catalog (<http://tcu.smartcatalogiq.com/current/Undergraduate-Catalog/Student-Policies/Academic-Conduct-Policy-Details>) and the Graduate Catalog (<http://tcu.smartcatalogiq.com/en/current/Graduate-Catalog/Academic-Conduct>).

Specific examples include, but are not limited to:

- Cheating: Copying from another student's test paper, laboratory report, other report, or computer files and listings; using, during any academic exercise, material and/or devices not authorized by the person in charge of the test; collaborating with or seeking aid from another student during a test or laboratory without permission; knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, or soliciting in its entirety or in part, the contents of a test or other assignment unauthorized for release; substituting for another student or permitting another student to substitute for oneself.
- Plagiarism: The appropriation, theft, purchase or obtaining by any means another's work, and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of that work as one's own offered for credit. Appropriation includes the quoting or paraphrasing of another's work without giving proper credit.
- Collusion: The unauthorized collaboration with another in preparing work offered for credit.
- Abuse of resource materials: Mutilating, destroying, concealing, or stealing such material.
- Computer misuse: Unauthorized or illegal use of computer software or hardware through the TCU Computer Center or through any programs, terminals, or freestanding computers owned, leased or operated by TCU or any of its academic units for the purpose of affecting the academic standing of a student.
- Fabrication and falsification: Unauthorized alteration or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise. Falsification involves altering information for use in any academic exercise. Fabrication involves inventing or counterfeiting information for use in any academic exercise.
- Multiple submission: The submission by the same individual of substantial portions of the same academic work (including oral reports) for credit more than once in the same or another class without authorization.
- Complicity in academic misconduct: Helping another to commit an act of academic misconduct.
- Bearing false witness: Knowingly and falsely accusing another student of academic misconduct.

Personal Settings & Notifications for TCU Online

As a student, you should set up your account settings, profile, and notifications. To do this you will login to TCU Online and select your name on the top right of the screen. In the Profile area, you can upload a photo of yourself and add personal information. In the Notifications area, you can add your phone number to receive text messages when grades are given as well as reminder texts for upcoming assignments and quizzes.

Student Success Tools for TCU Online

Pulse

Pulse is a phone app which gives you access to the course calendar, assignments, grades, and announcements. This app provides a graph that can help you manage your time. Based on the number of assignments and events on the course calendar for your classes, the graph will display busy times for class work in the upcoming week. You can use this app to manage your daily workload, and it includes the ability to view and access course materials offline. You can download Pulse from the Google Play or Apple Store. You can learn more and download Pulse here:
<https://www.d2l.com/products/pulse/>.

ReadSpeaker

ReadSpeaker includes a number of tools that can enhance your understanding and comprehension of course materials. ReadSpeaker can create an audio version of content that you can listen to while on a page within a course or that you can download to listen offline. ReadSpeaker can also read Microsoft Office files and PDFs. There are additional tools and features to assist you with reading and focusing in TCU Online, tools that provide support for writing and proofing text, and tools that can read non-TCU Online content aloud. You can learn more about how to use ReadSpeaker tools here: <https://tcuonline.tcu.edu/how-to-hub/instructor-how-to-hub-for-tcu-online/integrations-and-mobile/readspeaker/>
